

Faregos Exam Centre, Hampshire

We are an exam centre run by home educators for the benefit of home educators, although we welcome all students.

We are based in a community centre near FAREHAM PO14 4AB, near junction 9 of the M27.

We have received advice and support from the Examination Officers Association in order to set up our centre.

We are approved for Edexcel, CIE, OCR and AQA and have just passed our JCQ inspection with flying colours.

We

charge the exam board entry plus a small fee for administration, since we have to pay for someone to be in the office full-time. We are much cheaper than private tuition centres.

We also understand that many home educating families have problems with finding centres to take external candidates with special needs or school phobia and we try to meet all necessary requirements where we can.

We will be sympathetic to what your child needs and have experienced home educators who can help you decide which exams you can take, if help is needed.
